Headline:
Mostly cloudy Saturday, although some brighter spells later.

Today:
Largely cloudy but mostly dry through Saturday morning, although the odd spot of drizzle is possible in places. Cloud thinning, especially in western areas in the afternoon to give some brighter spells. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Largely cloudy conditions are expected to continue overnight, although a few cloud breaks are likely in the west. Staying dry with light winds, and temperatures on the mild side. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
Largely dry on Sunday, with cloud tending to break more readily in many areas to allow some bright or sunny spells, and feeling warmer. An isolated afternoon shower is possible. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday, thicker morning cloud with some showers across the north, otherwise mostly dry with sunny spells. Tuesday and Wednesday, generally dry, fine and sunny. Becoming very warm, locally hot.
